Secure handling of client keys

Keys are tagged by number only — never by name or address — and stored securely. Every key is signed for when received and when returned.

Our key policy

- Keys are identified by a tag number only, with no address or client name attached.
- Keys are stored in a locked key safe when not in use.
- Each key is signed for by the person receiving it, both in and out.
- Lost keys are reported to the client immediately.
- Keys are returned at the end of a booking, or held securely for recurring cleans with written consent.
